COMBINES AND TRUSTS.

While the people are crying out against the hardships and extortions of trusts and combines occasioned by tariff reductions and other causes, there is one in our midst that in its way through its general force is as burdensome as any of them, though perhaps not so generally understood. We refer to the Western Lumbermen's Association. Last week, in our strictures, we accused of injustice, we will publish later the constitution and bylaws in full, that people may read for themselves.

It must not here be understood, as we desire to ensure the producers, dealers or the retailers in any way in this connection, as they are only doing what any other like number of men might be expected to do under the circumstances, our only object is to point out the objectionable nature of legislation that permits such combines with such results to be possible.

The constitution and bylaws show that no man can purchase from the Canadian mills unless he is a member of the organization, and sections 4 and 8 show that practically no lumber or building material can be sold at any point for less than 20 per cent on cost laid down, that in wholesale cost with freight added. In case a dealer should have a conscience that would consider these rates too high and cut under, he is fined heavily and expelled from the combine, which means driven out of the business altogether. Is not this a nice state of things in the Canadian Northwest—legislation encouraging a combine that enables certain classes of dealers to fix their own profits and punish any man severely that interferes with the plunder?

Let us now take a look at the matter from a practical standpoint and see just how it leaves things. In conversation with one of the dealers of this city we learned from him the average price of lumber laid down including all classes with freight paid is $22.00 a thousand. We also get from themselves their handlings at retail in their yards here as below:

Total cost value 210,800

Leaving out Mr. Cope who does not profess to be a lumber dealer, we find six firms in this city sold the past year $235,000 worth of lumber at the 22 per cent profit specified would have netted them upwards of $41,000 or an average of $6,800 apiece. Allowing $1,800 as the cost of freight, etc., at each yard and each dealer, had the present "combining" influences been in force the past year would have pocketed his cool $5,000.

Now what do the men engaged in other lines of business in this city and elsewhere think of the picture—the legislation that leaves this state of things possible? We make bold to say that the actual cash capital invested in any of the three manufacturing offices in this city would run any lumber yard in the place, and we think we are safe in saying that there is not an office in the place that pays the proprietors one fifth of that amount after interest on money, wear and tear on machinery and all debts are deducted.

But this is not all. On account of the competition in all other lines of business many bad debts are incurred, while none need be in the lumber business. A man in other lines of commercial business fears to let a customer pass lest his competitors may sell to him at lower prices, while the lumber dealer knows that lower prices than his are out of the question—he can, therefore, refuse a man who does not put up the necessary security at the sale.

But let us carry this matter a little further. On making enquiry, we find the cut of the mills in Manitoba, and at Keewatin and Rat Portage amounts to 90 millions of feet a year. A little of this is sent west of Manitoba, but a much larger quantity than that sent west is brought in from British Columbia and the States so that it is safe to put the annual consumption of Manitoba at 100 millions a year. Taking the average price at Brandon as the average price of Manitoba and we have the lumber consumed in the province costing annually $2,200,000, and 20 per cent on that is $440,000, or nearly half a million dollars made by the dealers of the country. With lumber duties removed it is safe to say that instead of netting $5,000 a year apiece as the lumber dealers of this city will do if the combine laws, with unrestricted competition from the outside they would be satisfied with half that amount, and the public would receive the benefit of the other half. This is a question the farmers should bring properly before the Minister of Finance on his visit to this country, and they should insist on getting a definite reply as to what he thinks about it.

The Proposed Farmer's Elevator.

A well attended meeting of farmers was held in the city hall at 2 p. m. on Saturday last, to discuss further the proposition made some time ago to purchase Messrs. Smart & Darrach's Elevator at a price of $22,000.00. Mr. Postlethwaite occupied the chair and Mr. R. E. A. Leach was appointed secretary.

In the discussion, Mr. Doran spoke in favor of the proposed purchase. Whilst not saying anything against the grain buyers, he thought it would be to the farmer's interest to handle their grain and put it into shape as far as possible. Mr. Rodick said he would do all in his power to help along the enterprise, but was in doubt as to its proving a successful venture. He questioned whether there really was room for the proposed elevator, considering that the quantity of grain marketed here was less than in years past.

Mr. Nichol thought that if each of the share-holders averaged 2,000 bushels, of wheat yearly, it would be sufficient to make it a paying venture. Mr. Postlethwaite thought the farmers would give the elevator the preference, knowing that by so doing they would get full justice as regards price etc. Mr. Walker did not expect to get any dividends. One load of wheat sold at a good price was better than a dividend on 2 to 300. It was then announced by the president that 131 shares at $50.00 per share had been taken up, leaving about $5,000.00 to be subscribed, to make up the total amount of share about to be issued. On the proposition of Mr. Rodick, it was decided to adjourn the meeting for two weeks to give members of the Institute an opportunity to take up more stock and further discuss the matter.

Farmer's Institute.

A special meeting of the Farmers' Institute was held in the City Hall on Saturday afternoon last, for the purpose of hearing an address from J. C. Hobson Esq., of Guelph, Ont., a member of the Advisory Board of the Guelph Agricultural College.

After a few introductory remarks from the president, Mr. Hobson rose to give his address. He said he was pleased to meet such a body of representative farmers. He was not here to teach them how to farm. He did not pretend to know more than they did. Before leaving Ontario, he was told that he would return to that province much wiser in agricultural knowledge and he thought on looking around such would be the case. He had seen the magnificent crops of barley grown at the Experimental Farm on land which had not been mowed for 12 years. Now in Canada it was not possible to farm without mowing the land, so that he was not at all able to teach them anything in this direction. He would confine his remarks to a general system of farming. He considered the system of farming as carried on by some Ontario people in this country was somewhat wasteful. It seemed to him a mistake that the farmer did not go in more for mixed farming.

He had been told in Winnipeg that a great deal of the pork used in that city came from the province. This was a bad state of things in a country with so many advantages. In Ontario they made a great deal of money out of pork and it seemed to him possible for them to make a good deal more. For 12 years he had been the judge appointed by the Ontario Government to judge the prize farm of that province. In that capacity he had travelled all over the province and the nature of the work required that he should study out every phase of farm life, including even social surroundings, so that he was able to give them some of his observations. The successful farmers in Ontario are those who make stock raising a specialty; no farmer could be successful who did not pay the closest attention to every detail. A successful farmer is a just man. He should be able to leave his property to his heirs and to the weather. In stock raising it was important that he should consider what is best suited for his local condition. They all knew quite well that cattle which would be well suited for the hilly lands of Ontario, would not do for the rich pastures of Manitoba. Perhaps the most grievous of all mistakes was the matter of education, which is not as a rule sufficiently considered by the farmers of our country, but sons should be given an opportunity of acquiring education along those lines which would fit them for their lives work. There is an ever increasing desire for our boys and girls to crowd into the cities, and he did not wonder at such a state of things. We should make our homes more attractive and try to make our boys and girls more interested in these homes and thus encourage them to stay at home. He had seen some farm homes which had simply contained nothing to make life enjoyable. He was a strong believer of the great attraction of a good home. There is no condition of life more conducive to sturdy moral character than the environment of these homes. To be a successful farmer it was also necessary that a man should be a close observer. He had seen time and time where the influence of one successful farmer had a marked influence on the settlers around him. After a vote of thanks accorded the speaker, on motion of Mr. Nichol the meeting closed.

The Coming Shows.

From all accounts Sanger & Lent's have reached the summit in attraction and have an exhibition without a peer on either continent. Among the many wonders there is one in particular worthy of special mention, the baby elephant. These are the best ever known to have been given birth in the United States. Efforts have been and are yet being made in the Zoological Gardens of Europe to propagate the elephant, without success however, as the Pachyderm has never before been known to breed in captivity. They nest in the most inaccessible recesses of the jungle. While it is comparatively easy to trap, or with the aid of a decoy elephant, procure a full grown beast, the attempt to get a baby is attended with extreme danger, as frequently a whole herd of elephants is sacrificed by the hunters in obtaining a baby as the elephant will fight to the death in protection of their young. Consequently a baby elephant is of more value than thirty full grown ones in either Europe or America. The big show will be at Brandon, July 29.

The Indian, Alex. Tanner, who was tried here some time ago for incest, is again in trouble, this time for attempting to stab his daughter. He also threatened to kill his son, or any white man who attempted to arrest him. Indian Agent Markle has issued a warrant for his arrest.

Farmers' Mass Meeting.

A MASS MEETING of farmers will be held in the City Hall, Brandon, at 2 p. m., on Saturday, July 29th, to formulate a memorial to be presented to the Finance Minister, at his visit to the north. Western farmers and others interested in farming are invited to attend. Several good speakers will be present. GEO. KIDDER, Chairman.

By Resolution passed at a special meeting of the Ratepayers of the above district, it was resolved that an appeal be made against the award of the arbitrators made on the 30th June last, changing the site of the School House. Daily.

The annual picnic was held in Mr. George Chamber's grove on Friday last, was a great success. Some five hundred people were present, many coming from quite a distance. The picnic commenced at noon with dinner in the grove, a sumptuous repast being furnished by the ladies. After ample justice had been done to the good things provided, an adjournment was made to the foot-ball ground, where the Roseville club beat the Daily boys by one to nil. The following list of sports was then disposed of:

Pony Race, half mile, three heats—1st, Miss J. Brown, Emma; 2nd, Mr. A. Nichols, Minnie.
Mile Dash—1st, Mr. B. Powley's, Paddy; 2nd, Mr. E. Willes, Maud.
Farmers Trot, mile heats—1st, Mr. Murdoch's, Met. Judd; 2nd, Mr. H. Caradine's, Black gelding.
One hundred yards foot race—1st, George Lockhart; 2nd, Chas. Henry.
440 yards foot race—1st, George Lockhart; 2nd, W. Vickery.
Long Jump—Chas. Henry and Kent McKenzie tied at 19 feet.
High Jump—1st, Kent McKenzie, 5 ft 2 in; 2nd, Kent McKenzie.
The above were well-contested throughout, special interest being taken in the pony race, in which eight started; the best pony undoubtedly won, and we expect to hear more of Miss Brown's Emma, who is making for herself quite a picnic reputation.
A refreshment stall was provided on the ground, and was ably presided over by Miss Mary Wier and Mr. J. McDonald, to whom the thanks of the committee are justly due.
Dancing was kept up in the granary until the small hours of the morning. About $40 was afterwards distributed amongst the successful competitors in the various events, and so closed as is generally admitted, one of the most enjoyable picnics that the neighborhood has ever known.

"OLD BOYS."

The Rev. Mr. May's lecture on this subject in Workmen's Hall, drew, if not a large, certainly a select audience, and those present were more than pleased at the manner in which the Rev. gentleman handled his subject and the pleasant picture he painted of one of those rare articles to be found in this money-grubbing age, "An Old Boy as he ought to be." Many passages in his lecture were highly amusing, some sympathetic, but the whole tone healthy, hearty and invigorating. The lecturer hit most of the customs and the doings of the day hard. He was particularly severe on "old young boys," who at the age of 10 or 12 years are to be seen smoking their cigars and acting in every way as if they were men of thirty. Few of this rising generation would make one of his "Old Boys."

"Old Boys" in the good old days, were boys at 100 years of age. Methuselah must have been quite a lad at that period of his life. Then, men lived a quiet contented existence, dwelling with a loving wife and happy family without fear of being lured to death by perpetual duns, Teryism, Gritism, combines, railway rates, tariff reforms, noes, or continually striving to gain the almighty dollar. The present style of education was a system of cramming, which is not education and very detrimental to the would-be scholar. On the subject of matrimony the Rev. gentleman gave much good advice, but pointed out how in many instances, the husband, who had been previous to marriage, all courtesy and kindness changed as soon as he had gained her for his wife, and often treated his ideal of before marriage with less courtesy than any other lady of his acquaintance.

Life is a symposium of happiness and is one of the springs of eternal life. Take a reasonable share of the pleasures of life, cricket, baseball, the theatre, etc. and help to make one of his fine, cheery "old boys."

Young men in this country are to be pitied. Laves full of golden promise are lost and he thought that the young man who through no fault of his own, but simply because he was a stranger could not have the society of pure right-minded ladies was more to be pitied, if he went to the bad.

Do your duty, then you were on the true path to happiness in this world and the next.

One thing that surprised the lecturer was, that hundreds of men are to be found day after day in the same place, doing nothing, loafing around a stable or a tavern, when they might consort with such royal personage as Socrates, Homer, Tennyson, Shakespeare, Milton, Scott and numbers of others, equally grand in pedigree and intellectual superiority. The golden sunset of old boyhood as a woman's love, and the man who has retained the love of a pure woman through out life's long path, cannot be a bad man but one of the lecturers dear "Old Boys."

On closing, the Rev. gentleman was heartily applauded. Mr. Butt, manager of the Bank of British North America, moved a vote of thanks to Mr. May and hoped that the day was not far distant when he with many others would have the pleasure of hearing the talented lecturer, lecture on some other subject, if he might be allowed to suggest one, he would suggest "Old Girls."
Mr. Halpin, who had most courteously acted as chairman and introduced the lecturer to his audience reiterated Mr. Butt's remarks and conveyed the thanks of the audience for his highly intellectual and interesting lecture.

The Great Shows.

Sanger & Lent are coming in command of the big show. They have a double Circus and Hippodrome; the finest horses and greatest performers of Europe and America. A big menagerie of wild beasts, quite a number of wild animals entirely new to America. Then an aquarium of sea monsters in huge tanks. They have the sole right for two years to Lieut. J. Nevins' discoveries, converting fresh water into sea water, hence the aquarium. Having travelled all over the world they have accumulated many living phenomena of surpassing interest. Altogether it is unquestionably the very best show in the country. A grand free balloon ascension is given daily. The magnificent spectacular street pageant is highly spoken of. They will no doubt have immense audiences here, judging from the character of the show and the enthusiasm of an anxious public. Exhibitions will be given at Brandon, July 29th.

D. MANCHESTER.

Wellington St., Clothier and Merchant Tailor, who enjoys an Excellent Reception.

We copy the following from the Ottawa Free Press of the 15th inst. D. Manchester is a brother of our old townsman, E. H. Manchester. Mr. Manchester spent a few days here last week while on his trip to the coast.

At a casual glance or passing thought it seems remarkable how some men acquire a large and lucrative patronage, but when their motto is investigated it is easily explained, as nothing is so successful in business as energy and enterprise, coupled with industry and a straight forward system of honorable dealing. And in this connection it is our pleasure to make mention of that progressive and pioneer merchant, Mr. D. Manchester, whose well-stocked and attractive store is located 440, 442 and 444 Wellington street. This gentleman is one of the oldest clothiers in the Capital city, having established his business here twenty-five years ago, and he has certainly gained a well-merited reputation. His stock of ready made clothing and gents' furnishings is one of the largest and best to be found in this district. He purchases his goods direct from manufacturers, and carries nothing but the very best garments, which are perfectly made. The trade can always find at Mr. Manchester's store clothes that are stylish and the noblest workmanship cannot be rivalled. He also conducts in connection with his establishment a merchant tailoring department, and carries a diversified assortment of cashmeres, serges, diagonals, worsteds, broadcloths, and all the latest patterns that come from the celebrated looms of Europe. Mr. Manchester employs only skillful hands, and turns out strictly fine clothes. His trade is not alone confined to Ottawa of the Ottawa Valley, but extends clear to the Pacific Coast. His business on the western slope is assuming immense proportions and it is his intention to devote most of his time and energy to this part of the country, where his sales amount to an enormous sum annually. He is one of Ottawa's pioneer citizens, and numbers among his customers many old-time and influential citizens. He is a straight-forward and honorable business man, whose word is his bond, and his establishment stands above reproach. Goods coming from his house will be found exactly as represented. His reputation in this respect is well established, and his house is one of the most prominent and best known concerns in Ottawa. Mr. Manchester is a gentleman who stands high in commercial circles, and one with whom it is a pleasure to transact business.

The Summer Death Rate.

The greatest evidence of the dangers of Cholera, Morbus, Diarrhoea, and Dysentery, is the increase in the death rate of all the leading cities during the summer months. Men and women cannot be too careful of their habits of life during the heated term, and particular attention should be paid to the diet of children. A supply of Perry Davis' Pain Killer should always be at hand, for it is the only medicine that can be relied on at all times as safe, sure and speedy. A teaspoonful will cure any ordinary case; but in severe attacks it is occasionally necessary to bathe the sufferer's stomach with the Pain Killer. All reputable druggists have it for sale. 25c. price per large bottle.
